Steiner Playgroup

We play, bake bread, sing and listen to stories inspired by the unfolding seasons and the educational ideas of Rudolf Steiner.
A gentle and beautiful beginning for your child's education.

Young children primarily learn by imitation, imagination and movement. While adults are fully awake, young children are in 'dream consciousness' – their nature is to experience, explore and come to know the world through their senses and physically 'doing'. Steiner Playgroup meets the child's nature and needs in a rhythmic and joyous atmosphere.
